"SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK"

RESOLUTIONS

Adopted by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the Second District, Division B, at Pembroke, Ky., June 14, 1917.

Realizing our dependence upon our Heavenly Father in all that we undertake as workers together with Him for the destruction of the liquor traffic, we express our gratitude to Him for the wonderful victories of the past year. We rejoice in the increased prohibition sentiment throughout the world, and for its crystallization into definite action with such far-reaching results that it seems that our goal may be attained in the not far distant future. We believe—

1. That total abstinence from the use of all alcoholic liquors and all narcotic drugs is a necessity for the physical, mental and moral well-being of our nation.
2. That Constitutional Prohibition is the only means to secure the overthrow of the drink evil.
3. That as a means to this end we should have prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors written into our State Constitution; and that we should ask every candidate for the legislature at the coming election to state publicly whether he will vote for the submission to the people of a really effective prohibition amendment to the Constitution.

4. That this convention should wire President Wilson to not only recommend, but to urge, Congress to enact prohibition as a war measure for the conservation of the grain which is so much needed for food, and also for the protection of our men and boys, both physically and morally, that they may make more efficient soldiers. Or, as an alternative, that the President issue a proclamation prohibiting the manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors during the war.

5. That, whereas liquor can be sold legally at three points in this county (Christian), and knowing its awful menace to the morals, the health and the efficiency of our men and boys—not to mention the poverty and distress in so many homes resulting from its use—it is the sense of this convention that a vote should be taken here on the liquor question this fall. We pledge ourselves to assist in every way possible in the campaign for the extermination of the traffic from our midst.

We wish to thank most heartily the people of the Pembroke Union for the cordial hospitality so graciously extended to the convention in opening their homes for the entertainment of the delegates, for the beautiful words of welcome, the lovely flowers, the special musical numbers and the delicious lunch on Saturday noon; to Rev. Ward Russell and Prof. J. F. Claypool for their presence and encouraging words, and to all who have in any way contributed to the success of the meeting. We wish especially to signify our pleasure in having with us our honored State President, Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, of Lexington, Ky., and to express to her our gratitude for the inspiration of her presence, her many helpful suggestions, and for the splendid address of the evening.

Facts About Tuberculosis.

The two plans to fight consumption are the education of the children through the schools as a part of their course of study and the care and isolation of those who now have the disease. Without the knowledge of how to safeguard health and to care for the afflicted much of the teaching in schools is in vain. The Tuberculosis Commission believes that the rising generation should be taught the rules of health and that it should be made compulsory to include a health course in every public school.

ANTI-WASTE ARMY IS FORMED

Organization of Housewives of Country Will Be Carried Out Along Military Lines.

The newest army is known as the "anti-waste." It will please father to know that housewives are banding together to help him conserve his bankroll, but at the same time, it may be necessary for him to take in a reef in his appetite.

The plan is to enlist the nation's housewives in a campaign to conserve food. Everything has been completed and the project will be carried out along military lines. A "regiment" will be raised in every city and town in the country and each "regiment" will have its colonel. Mrs. Julia Heath, national president, who will be commander in chief, says the army will work in co-operation with the National Defense council. The purpose of the movement is to teach housewives how to save in the kitchen.

The first move will be to get the women to nail up in their kitchen a poster, bearing the picture of an American flag and the reminder that women must prevent waste of food to help the United States win the war. Recruiting stations are to be opened in the homes and stores. A woman doesn't have to be a member of the Housewives' league in order to enroll. After the "army" is mobilized, there will be classes to instruct women with servants, women with no servants and servants themselves in the much-needed art of preventing waste of food.

Graphite as a Lubricant.

Graphite, says the Scientific American, is not a lubricant, but an aid to keeping a bearing in good working order by filling up the minute irregularities of the shaft and bearing, and producing a beautiful, polished surface, and in this way reduces friction. To get this result only a very small quantity of graphite is necessary, and if too much is applied it simply collects in wads and defeats the purpose intended. It follows that the proper way to use graphite successfully is to mix thoroughly a small quantity with the lubricating oil at suitable intervals, and not to apply it continuously, for when the above mentioned polished surface is formed it will last quite a long time before requiring renewal.

WERE STILL LEFT IN DARK

Club Members Unable to Tell From Post's Letters Whether He Accepted or Declined Invitation.

The following story is told of the late Joaquin Miller, the "poet of the Sierras."

A certain club desired the poet to address its annual meeting, for which an elaborate program had been prepared. The secretary wrote a letter to Miller, telling him of the purpose of the gathering and requesting his co-operation. In due time there came an answer from the poet. It was in his own hand and covered four pages. In vain the secretary pored over the manuscript. He passed it on to the president, the board of directors, and the members in turn, but all failed to decipher the scrawl. The question before the club was, "Has Miller accepted or has he declined?" The secretary finally sent the following note to the poet:

"My Dear Mr. Miller—Your letter received, but I have been unable to determine whether you have accepted or declined our invitation. If you will be present on the date mentioned, will you kindly make a cross at the bottom of this letter? If it will be impossible for you to appear, will you kindly draw a circle?" In due time the letter came back, but the secretary could not decide whether the poet had drawn a cross or a circle!

Cheer Up!

Come up smiling, laugh and grin, cheerfulness is not a sin. The past is gone, the present's here; bear your worries with some cheer. Come up smiling, life's too great to waste your time in cursing fate. Do the best as best you can, and you will be a happy man.—Abe Levy.

Not So Fortunate.

"My wife is like George Washington: I don't believe she could tell a lie to save her soul." "You're lucky! Mine can tell a lie the minute I get it out of my mouth."

Happy Thought.

If you've nothing else to be cheerful about, at least be cheerful about your office.

Would Take Any Color.

The family with guests were assembled at the evening meal. The father carved the roast chicken, and as he turned to each person he inquired whether dark or white meat was desired. When little John's turn came he looked gravely up into his father's face and graciously replied: "Oh, it doesn't matter so much what I take, just give me a little of all the other colors that aren't wanted."
